Communion with the departed

Father, Christ is the first fruits of those who have fallen asleep.
When the women went to Jesus' tomb, hoping to anoint his body for burial, two mysterious figures in dazzling white enquired of them,
'why are you seeking the living among the dead?' I thank you, Father, that you did not let your Holy One see corruption, but soon awakened him from his sleep of death.
And this is why we do not grieve for our loved ones who have fallen asleep as others do who have no hope.
This at least we know: Christ died for us, so that whether we wake or sleep we are always with the Lord.
Father, we believe Christ when he said,
'The hour is coming, it has come already, when the dead will hear the voice of God's Son and those who hear it will live.
For as the Father has life in himself, so has he given this life to his Son.
Father, help us grieve no more for our dear ones who have fallen asleep but commit them trustingly to Christ the Conqueror of Death.
