Corpus Christi: The Body of Christ.

In the 'Our Father,' we ask each day for our daily bread, a simple reminder of our day-by-day dependence on God's providence. The Eucharist is a reminder that Jesus has wanted to provide for our deepest hunger, by giving us his body made bread. The Gospel today is Luke's account of the multiplication of the loaves and fishes. The disciples tell Jesus to send the crowd away who have been listening to him; it's one thing to give people some teaching, but they feel they can't be responsible for the people. At the end of the day each person must look after themselves. Jesus challenges them, insisting that they feed them. They say, 'but we can't, we don't have enough. 'We look around us, there are so many needs, even just looking at the Church, we can feel empty handed, we haven't got enough to respond to the needs we see. Jesus is inviting us to bring the little we have to the Eucharist, our little patience, our little hope, our little compassion, and offer it with him. By giving us the really nourishing food of his presence and his love, he promises to transform these things to something that can make a difference for others. The reading ends 'They all ate as much as they wanted.'

Consecration to the Sacred Heart of Jesus.

O Sacred Heart of Jesus, to Thee I consecrate and offer up my person and my life, my actions, trials, and sufferings, that my entire being may henceforth only be employed in loving, honouring and glorifying Thee. This is my irrevocable will, to belong entirely to Thee, and to do all for Thy love, renouncing with my whole heart all that can displease Thee. I take Thee, O Sacred Heart, for the sole object of my love, the protection of my life, the pledge of my salvation, the remedy of my frailty and inconstancy, the reparation for all the defects of my life, and my secure refuge at the hour of my death. Be Thou, O Most Merciful Heart, my justification before God Thy Father, and screen me from His anger which I have so justly merited. I fear all from my own weakness and malice, but placing my entire confidence in Thee, O Heart of Love, I hope all from Thine infinite Goodness. Annihilate in me all that can displease or resist Thee. Imprint Thy pure love so deeply in my heart that I may never forget Thee or be separated from Thee. I beseech Thee, through Thine infinite Goodness, grant that my name be engraved upon Thy Heart, for in this I place all my happiness and all my glory, to live and to die as one of thy devoted servants. AMEN.
